

American Association for Laboratory Animal Science Copyright Transfer Agreement

Manuscript #: _____
Journal Title: _____

The American Association for Laboratory Animal Science (AALAS) holds the copyright on the contents of the Journal of the American Association for Laboratory Animal Science and Comparative Medicine. To secure copyright for AALAS, the Copyright Revision Act (PL94-553) requires that authors specifically assign in writing all rights to AALAS by signing Part I of this copyright transfer agreement before an article is accepted for publication. If an article was prepared as part of the author's official duties with the federal government, authors must sign Part II of this agreement.

Submission of this form does not imply acceptance of your manuscript. In the case your manuscript is deemed unsuitable for publication, this form will not be kept on file.

Authors, or others with the author's permission, who wish to include copyrighted material in review articles and books must request written permission to do so from the AALAS office.

American Association for Laboratory Animal Science Competing Interests Declaration

Please check one of the following below. The complete competing interests policy is online at www.aalas.org/pdf/competing\_interest.pdf. Your manuscript cannot be sent for review until the AALAS editorial office has received a completed, signed copy of this form.

I declare that I have no competing interests such as those defined below or others that might be perceived to influence the results and discussion reported in this manuscript.

I declare that I have the following competing interests with regard to the results and discussion reported in this manuscript:

- Employment, consultantships (with or without compensation), personal gifts of over $100 value, paid travel expenses of over $100 (excluding research-related travel), provision of expert witness, or receipt of honoraria of over $100, within the past 3 years, with or from any organization having a direct commercial interest in the subject matter discussed in the manuscript;
- Direct equity ownership in a company having a direct commercial interest in the subject matter discussed in the manuscript. This does not apply to mutual funds or similar financial instruments not controlled by the author(s);
- Receipt of non-purchased research equipment or supplies to the author's institution, within the past 3 years, from an organization having a direct commercial interest in the subject matter discussed in the manuscript.
- Patents, pending patents, or copyrights held or applied for by an author that may bias the presentation of information in the manuscript.
- Any financial support to the author(s) or the author's institution for the research or other information presented in the manuscript.
- Any publication restrictions imposed on the author(s) by a study sponsor.
- Any involvement by a study sponsor in the collection, analysis, interpretation, and reporting of data or opinions.
- Any other professional or personal circumstances that may have biased the presentation of information in the manuscript (e.g., author's spouse sells a competing product; author has accepted a position with a competing organization). This does not apply to memberships in professional organizations.

Note: The manuscript will include a disclaimer, as follows: "Authors declare no competing interests" or "Authors declare competing interests" based upon the information provided above.
